

European Programme for Human Rights Education for Legal Professionals - HELP All you need to know in 3 easy steps

HELP is the main educational platform of the Council of Europe for legal professionals. Its aim is to train judges, lawyers and prosecutors on human rights standards in Europe.

Apart from the European Convention on Human Rights (ECHR), HELP covers other instruments like the European Social Charter (ESC) or CoE Conventions in key areas like data protection or labour rights. Furthermore, with EU support, we include the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights and relevant EU law or CJEU jurisprudence in the courses specifically developed for EU countries, but also implemented in other CoE member states.

The HELP courses enable legal professionals to better protect human rights on a national level and keep up to date with the ever-evolving standards and case law of the European Court of Human Rights.

For an introduction to the HELP Programme watch this video

Step 1: The HELP Network

HELP is the only European Network of national training institutions (NTIs) for judges, prosecutors and lawyers in the 47 member states of the Council of Europe. The network is made up of representatives from NTIs and Bar associations (BAs) of the 47 member states.

For more information on the Network, click here.

Step 2: The e-learning platform and the HELP courses

The HELP e-learning platform is available for free online. A wide range of courses can be accessed on the platform in English and, increasingly, in the national languages of CoE countries.

There are two main types of HELP courses:

1. The HELP Online courses on various human-rights related topics, which are available to any user who has an account on the platform; and
2. The so-called 'Tutored courses' which are only available for selected groups of legal professionals participating in pilot courses co-organized with the relevant National Training Institutions or Bar Associations and moderated by HELP certified tutors.

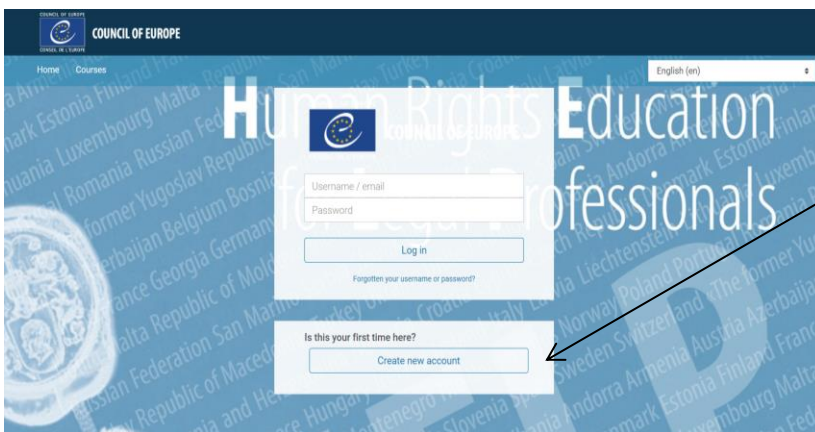

Interested in accessing the HELP Online courses? First go to www.coe.int/HELP and follow the instructions below.

How to create a HELP account?

Clicking on this link will bring you to the HELP home page on the Council of Europe website. To access the e-learning platform, click on the big blue E-learning button or on 'Free Course Registration' on the right hand side.

This will bring you to the HELP e-learning platform home page. To create an account click 'Log in' in the top right hand corner, or just next to the 'HELP Online courses' button.

This page should appear. Now click 'Create new account' below the 'Log In' button.

Now choose a Username and password and fill in your personal details. When you are finished, click 'Create my new account' at the bottom.

An email will be sent to the email address you entered so that you can activate your account.

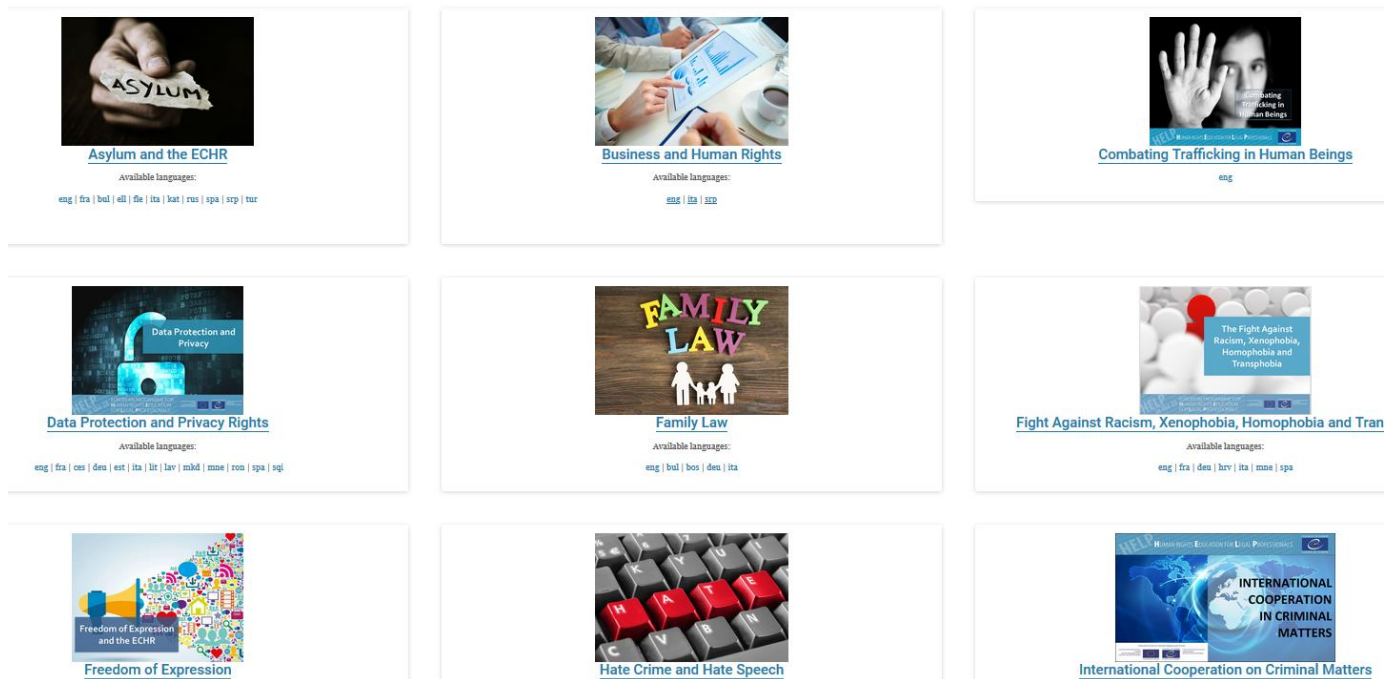

Now you are ready to start learning.

How to access HELP Online Courses?

Clicking on this link will bring you to the HELP e-learning platform.

You can now browse the home page to see the list of available HELP courses and click directly on the available language versions to launch the courses.

Step 3: Methodology

- The HELP methodology is built to fit in with the busy schedules of legal professionals. The curricula are made by experts to meet participants' specific training needs and learning pace.
- HELP organises Training of Trainers sessions to train national tutors, who adapt the curriculum to the national legislation and to the type of legal professionals. The national tutor may also draft a chapter on the implementation of EU provisions and case law at the domestic level if relevant.
- Once ready, the model course in English is published in the self-learning block of the HELP platform.
- Each curriculum displays both mandatory resources and optional additional resources to cater for different levels of knowledge and interest.

For more information, click here.

Want to know a little more? Here's a bonus Step 4

Step 4: EU-CoE "HELP in the 28" Programme

HELP in the 28 was implemented to support legal professionals from the 28 member states of the European Union. It focused on the ECHR and European Social Charter of the Council of Europe, but also the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union and CJEU jurisprudence.

The HELP in the 28 Programme was funded by the European Union, implemented by the Council of Europe and supported by Associate Partners such as EU NTIs, BAs and the European Judicial Training Network (EJTN) or the Council of Bars and Law Societies of Europe (CCBE). Under HELP in the 28, four new courses were developed and launched in several countries each:

Data protection and privacy rights: As the use of information and communication technologies becomes more widespread, people can easily become victims of data protection violations. This course contains content about the relevant legal framework and case law as well as how to identify violations and apply remedies in specific areas of data protection and privacy rights such as: medical sector; media; development of new technologies; e-communication and marketing; workplace surveillance. For more information watch this video.

Fight against racism, xenophobia and homophobia: Racism and xenophobia are a widespread problem in Europe today, with anti-immigrant attitudes on the rise. Across the CoE, LGBT persons and other vulnerable groups continue to face discrimination, violence and exclusion. This course has two substantive modules, one on racism and xenophobia, and the other on homophobia and transphobia. A link to a specific module on Roma, the largest minority in the EU is also provided. For more information watch this video.

Labour rights: In times of economic recession, the creation of jobs and the protection of labour rights are of utmost importance. This course provides modules such as the right to work, employment relationship and working time, pay and insolvency, termination of employment, discrimination - equal opportunities, collective labour rights and health and safety (physical and mental). For more information watch this video.

Right to the integrity of the person (bioethics): The right to integrity of the person is linked to the idea of human dignity and that each person's physical and mental space ought to be protected. It includes the prohibition of physical and mental torture and inhuman and degrading treatment and punishment. The course is composed of two parts: the first part presents the right to integrity in general, including the right to private life and the prohibition of torture; the second part will cover the right to integrity in the specific fields of medicine and biology. For more information watch this video.